Automotive Aftermarket Charitable Foundation's Annual Golf Tournament a Success

Sacramento, Calif. – November 8, 2022 – The Bob Schoeberl Memorial Golf Tournament, held recently during the SEMA and AAPEX industry week in Las Vegas, was a stunning testimony to work of the Automotive Aftermarket Charitable Foundation's (AACF) Board of Directors, AACF staff and volunteers, and the large number of industry leaders who supported this annual event. It attracted 160 golfers and more than $600,000 was raised to help individuals and families in the automotive aftermarket in need.

"We had a tremendous turn out for our AACF 30th anniversary charity golf tournament on Monday, October 31 at the Spanish Trail Country Club in Las Vegas," said Larry Magee, AACF Trustee and President of the Board of Directors. Magee, of Magee Ventures Group, led the annual board meeting on Sunday and hosted a cocktail party and festive gathering that evening.

"I was honored and humbled by the outstanding support from the automotive aftermarket's industry members, our donors and the AACF Board of Trustees who participated to raise dollars and raise awareness of our charitable organization. This fund-raising event will allow the Foundation to continue the great work we do in providing support to men and women in the automotive aftermarket who have fallen on difficult times and have nowhere else to turn, added Magee."

"We were so pleased at the level of support we received from the industry in making the 30th-anniversary of our charity golf tournament a huge success," said Joel Ayres, Executive Director of the AACF. "In addition to funds that come from the golf teams, we had an impressive array of gifts and prizes donated by members of the industry that supported our raffle and for our door prizes, making it a fun day for all who attended."

Four industry leaders took home the top trophy, but all who participated are winners, as they helped the AACF grow its funds to support businesses and families in times of catastrophe in the aftermarket industry.
