Sacramento, Calif. – October 17, 2018 – The Automotive Aftermarket Charitable Foundation (AACF) today announced the official launch of a charitable auction of a customized 2018 Nissan Kicks via <http://bit.ly/AACF-Nissan-Auction>, and bidding is officially open.

Thanks to generous donations and ongoing support from Nissan USA, Cooper Tire & Rubber Company and BringaTrailer.com, all proceeds from the auction will benefit aftermarket nonprofit AACF.

“The Kicks is an innovative CUV, and we’re thrilled to collaborate with Nissan USA and other partners to offer an incredible customized Kicks that will be on display during Automotive Aftermarket Industry Week,” said Lynn Parker, board president of AACF.

The Kicks’ eye-popping two-tone styling is innovation on wheels. It’s dressed to impress with hot design features like the floating roof, V-motion grille, boomerang headlamps and taillights, custom Monarch Orange trim kit, ground lighting and alloy wheels.

The interior is packed with forward-thinking reality. The Kicks’ seven-inch touch screen display takes smart tech up a notch with standard Bluetooth streaming, six-speaker audio, Apple Car Play, and Android Auto – all with Sirius XM capability.

Beyond the telescoping steering wheel, gliding-wing dashboard, NASA-inspired zero gravity seats clothed in Roadwire custom leather, and expansive headroom and legroom, the 25.3-foot cargo area offers maximum versatility.

Enjoy the drive with Kicks' CVT transmission and front-wheel drive with independent front and rear suspension. Plus, best-in-class turn radius, maximum ground clearance and Cooper Tires for nimble handling around town or cross-country.
